

The Week In Society.

THE LIFE OF LOVE.

Never mind, my dearie—
There's blessing for the poor;
When Joy flies in the window,
Let sorrow out the door!

Along the shadowed highway
We meet with thorny foes,
Yet we may have, my dearie,
The riches of a rose.

Never mind the trouble—
Sorrow 'll soon be clear;
Life is but in living,
For other lives, my dear!

—Frank Stanton.

"All Roads Lead to Rome."

And all social channels are converging toward the horse show, the close of the week finds the show well in hand with every feature near matured excellence. Monday night, the sale of the boxes indicated a more widespread interest, and from a pecuniary point of view, the sale nearly trebled last year's receipts from the same source.

There will be many visitors in the city—charming visitors, and many are known here by former visits. A world of small affairs may be expected during the week, while the reception and the grand ball stand out as the central events.

The vitality which society has been storing up throughout the summer fairly will scintillate next week. If the weather man but will "smile and look pleasant," there will be no limit to the success of the horse show.

Among the visitors who have responded to the invitation may be mentioned: Mrs. Frank O. Watts, of Nashville; Mrs. J. H. Lane of Mound City, Ill.; Mrs. J. H. Love, of New York; Mrs. Leon Denison, of Cairo; Mrs. Jake Corbett, of Wickliffe; Mrs. Lucy Stark, of Bowling Green; Mrs. Charles Patier, of Cairo, and from Marion, Ky.; Mrs. J. L. Wilson, Mrs. Horace Sayre, Miss Kitty Gray, Miss Blanche Haase; from Clarksville, Tenn., Mrs. Gustav Warnken, Mrs. Guy Johnson and Mrs. Anne Berryman and Miss Mayme Tate Chapman, of Morganfield, Mrs. Xavia Haynie, of Gallatin, Tenn.

Mrs. McCandless Entertains.

In a delightfully pleasant card party, Mrs. John W. McCandless entertained Monday afternoon at her home on West Jefferson street in compliment to Miss Susie McCandless, of New York. The house was decorated in white and green, roses and ferns being conspicuous. There were eight tables with a plate of greens in the center and covered with green cloth. The first prize, a Japanese case, was won by Miss Clara Park. She presented it to Miss McCandless. Miss Park also received the lone hand prize, a hand-painted comb and brush tray. Miss Fannie Coleman received the consolation prize, a book. A two-course luncheon was served in the afternoon and Newman's orchestra played. In attendance were: Mrs. Ada Van Pelt, of Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. J. D. Martin, of San Francisco; Messdames Wheeler Campbell, Luke Russell, Daniel Hughes, Allen Ashcraft, W. B. McPherson, C. C. Burk, J. C. Flournoy, Hubbard Wells, William Marble, Charles McQuot, C. C. Warren, J. E. Williamson, Jr., Henry Rudy, John S. Blecker, T. C. Leech, Harry Williamson, C. C. Grassham, Clarence Sherrill, Ned Baker, D. M. Flournoy, R. D. MacMillen, M. G. Cobb, J. K. Greer, and Messdames Manie Cobb, Retta Hatfield, Nell Paxton, Monima Hopkins, Lulu Reed, Susie Thompson, Margarette Parks, Clara Parks, Mary K. Sowell, Carlisle Sowell, Estell Hale, Lillian Gregory.

Skidoo Party.

Mr. Mel Byrd, Jr., of West Trimble street, entertained twenty-three of his friends Wednesday evening on his twenty-third birthday in honor of Miss Mable Gough, of Henderson, Ky., a visitor in the city. The color scheme of yellow and white was prettily carried out. Dainty refreshments of ices and punch were served during the evening. In a contest Miss Bessie Lane won the young ladies' prize and Mr. George Holliday the gentlemen's. The guest list included: Misses Mable Gough, of Henderson, Ky.; Cora Richardson, Claire St. John, Caroline Ham, Mary Barry, Irene Curd, Floyd Swift, Edna Eades, Nell Barry, Maybelle Beyer, Bessie Lane, Mary Byrd and Messrs. Dudward Sutton, Watson Bockmon, Edward Curd, Oswald Cheek, James Davis, Allen Wolff, George Holliday, Marshal Puryear, Russell McLean and Howard Shelton.

Reception.

Mrs. J. M. Buckner gave an introductory reception Thursday evening at her home on Jefferson street to her guest, Dr. A. H. Flowers, of Boston. Dr. Flowers was the brother of the Rev. George A. Flowers, who was pastor here many years ago at the First Christian church. The reception was given that the old church members might meet their former pastor's brother. The color scheme of red and white was carried out in the decorations and ices.

In Honor of Birthday.

Miss Mary Byrd entertained last evening at her home on 22 Trimble street, in honor of her birthday. The evening was delightfully spent with games and other happy diversions suggested by the hostess. In the game of "Penny Conversation," Miss Allie D. Foster captured the young ladies' prize and Mr. Spencer Starks the gentlemen's. Delightful refreshments were served at the conclusion of the game.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Love, of New York, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Phillips at their country home. Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Watts also will visit Mr. and Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. Anne Berryman of Clarksville, Tenn., will visit Mrs. Campbell Flournoy.

Mrs. Gustav Warnken, Mr. Hart Caldwell and Mr. Jack Lowry, of Clarksville, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cook Husbands at the "Cabbage Patch."

Miss Lucy Bruen, of Webb City, Mo., will be the guest of Miss Marjorie Scott.

Miss Emma Lou Love, of Indianapolis, will be the guest of the Messrs. Rike.

Mrs. Gus Thomas, of Mayfield, and Miss Mary Skeffington, of Nashville, will be the guests of Mrs. George A. Flournoy.

Miss Rose English, of Louisville, will be the guest of Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Reynolds.

Entertainments for Visitors.

The entertainments of the week will be many, varied and beautiful in detail. The ladies of the entertainment committee, of which Mrs. R. B. Phillips is chairman, will give a reception to the sponsors and visitors, to which the men and women of the city, too, are invited, in the parlors of the Chess, Checker and Whist club Thursday afternoon. The first announcement was that the reception would take place at the Elks' Home, but the committee has decided to hold it in the club rooms.

The rooms will be handsomely decorated in red, blue and yellow for the occasion, and the hours will be from 3 to 5. Friday night the ball will be given at the Elks' home, and it promises to be one of the handsomest affairs of the kind in the history of the city. The beautiful assembly room of the Home will be used, and it will be decorated with cut flowers and plants, and in the colors of the Horse Show Association, red, blue and yellow.

The grand march will start promptly at 10:30, and then three dance figures will be danced. Following this a three favor cotillion will be danced. The favors will be caps, whips, spurs, crops, horns, bridles for the men, and bracelets, mirrors and riding accessories for the ladies. Mrs. George C. Wallace and Miss Anna Webb will distribute the favors, and Mr. Roy Cutley and Mrs. R. B. Phillips will lead the cotillion. Three dances will also follow the cotillion. Admission to the ball will be by ticket and the tickets are on sale at a dollar each.

Other entertainments of the week are: Mrs. Campbell Flournoy will give a tea Wednesday afternoon in honor of her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Watts, of Nashville.

Mrs. Clarence Sherrill will entertain at bridge Thursday morning in compliment to Mrs. Frank Watts and Mrs. John H. Love.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Blecker will give a dinner party in honor of Mrs. Frank Watts, of Nashville, Mrs. John H. Love, of New York, and Miss Xavia Haynie, of Gallatin, Tenn., who will be her guest during the week. Mrs. George A. Flournoy will entertain Saturday morning in honor of her guests, Mrs. Gus Thomas, of Mayfield, and Miss Mary Skeffington, of Nashville.

There will be several other informal parties, and probably one or two more larger affairs during the week, the dates for which have yet to be fixed. The theater, too, will be the source of diversion, and withal, the week will be a gay one in the social realm.

The Musical Drill.

One of the prettiest features of the show last year was the Musical Drill, and the promoters decided on this feature as one of the attractions again this year about the first thing. On account of the inclement weather, however, the couples who will ride have had very few practices, but there is ample time before Wednesday night, when the feature comes off, to perfect it. Those who will ride in the drill are Mr. Gus Thompson and Miss Martha Davis; W. I. Sturtevant and Miss Frances Wallace; Frank Davis and Miss Marjorie Scott; Zack Bryant and Miss May Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudy; George Thompson, Jr., and Miss Ethel Sights; Richard Scott and Miss Gene Morris; Will Rudy and Miss Henri Alcott; Walter Iverson and Miss Mary Cave; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Blecker; O. L. Gregory and Mrs. George Flournoy; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Van Meter; George Smith and Miss Claire St. John; George C. Wallace, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Boswell; W. J. Dicke and Mrs. Taylor Fisher; James Utterback and Miss Williametta James; Jos. L. Friedman and Miss Jeanette Campbell; Dr. H. G. Reynolds and Miss Frances Carter.

The Children's Features.

The children's features of the Horse Show this year are going to be better than last year, and that is saying a good deal. However, with last year's work to guide them, the committee has been able to work up still better features. All of the children's events will be Friday of the week, and the list of entries is a very large one. There are about twenty entries in the riding event for the best boy and the best girl rider, and fully that many in the flower parade. The flower parade will, probably, be the prettiest event on the entire program, and all this week the little fellows have been hard at work decorating their rigs for it, assisted, of course, by the committee and elders.

Among those entering are Susan Porter Bleeth, the daughter of Mr. James P. Bleeth, and only two and a half years old; Anna Webb Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Phillips, three years of age; Lena Utterback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Utterback, three years old, and Virginia Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Wright.

Next Saturday afternoon all the children in the events will be entertained at The Pines by the committee, of which Mrs. Jos. L. Friedman is chairman, and the prizes will be distributed to all the children who have taken any part in the events and won no prizes. Dr. Voris will meet with the children at the park Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to drill them, and all are urged to attend.

Notes.

In the limited number of appearances, Mr. George Bagby, who recently came to the city to make his home has made the public have reason to congratulate itself on securing a talented young man. His talent already has proven practically useful and certainly delightful.

It is to be hoped that the skies will have "wepted themselves to sleep" with the close of this week. The musical drill has been set back slightly by the rain and other outside practice has been brought to a standstill. Wednesday afternoon, little Miss Elizabeth Hill, entertained a large number of her friends at her home, Sixth and Clay streets. It was in commemoration of her eighth birthday. It was a thoroughly enjoyable party and refreshments were served in the afternoon.

Miss Emma Davis, of Smithland, was married to Dr. G. D. Chipp, at Smithland Wednesday evening, in the Methodist church. Miss Davis has friends here and Dr. Chipp is from Missouri.

Next Thursday evening, Messrs. Cecil Patton and Clarence Krug will give a dance at the park pavilion. Twenty-five couples will be present.

Took Him for a "Dead One."

Charles Hawtrely tells of this experience. During a trip through Europe he found himself in a small village with no razors. There was no barber's shop in the place. "The innkeeper told me, says Mr. Hawtrely, 'that there was a man in the village who occasionally shaved people, and I determined to risk a cut or two, and sent for him.'

"The amateur barber arrived, and after a little hesitation he said to me: 'Will you please, sir, lie down flat on your back while I shave you?'"

"Thinking that it was probably the custom of the country, I stretched out comfortably on my back, and nearly went to sleep while the fellow shaved me, so light was his touch."

"When he had finished I asked: 'I am curious to know why you asked me to lie down to be shaved.'"

"'Because, sir,' was the ingenious reply, 'I never before shaved a live man.'"

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Carried Rule Too Far.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 29.—The court of appeals, by Judge Barker, reversed the Boyle circuit court in the Jung Brewing company vs. the commonwealth. Appellants were indicted and fined for violation of Section 576, Kentucky statutes, for failing to place the word "incorporated" under labels on beer bottles. This court holds that the words "printed or advertising matter" is not to be extended to labels on the articles of merchandise sold—that it relates to letter-heads and advertising matter. Similar indictments are pending in many counties of the state for alleged similar offenses.

Confederate Veterans.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 29.—At the annual state reunion of Confederate veterans in Kentucky, held at the Home at Pewee Valley today, the following officers were elected: Bennett H. Young, re-elected, major general; James R. Rogers, Paris, general of First brigade; W. J. Stone, general of Second brigade; Dozier Thornton, general of Third brigade, and D. B. Johnson, of Lexington, general of the Fourth brigade.

Asylum Investigation.

Just after the day's session of the investigation of affairs at the Eastern Kentucky Insane asylum had adjourned J. F. Wallace, an ex-attendant who caused the investigation, brought in the most important witness of the day. This man, John Karigozian, said he had seen patients choked and beaten and had protested vainly. The investigation later adjourned until after the grand jury meets.

Into Bankruptcy.

Hickman, Ky., Sept. 29.—About a week ago the Ellison Mercantile company, which was incorporated for $50,000, the largest firm in this place, having four stores, made an assignment for $50,000. A day or two ago the Falls City Clothing company and the Bray Clothing company, of Louisville, threw the company into bankruptcy.

Brother Insulted Wife.

Richmond, Ky., Sept. 29.—Nathan Tudor, last night shot and killed his brother, Marion. Tudor says Marion came to his house and insulted his wife. She told her husband. He secured a gun and killed his brother. He was not placed in jail, being allowed a guard.

Was Wrong Man.

THE WHOLE LAMB FAMILY.

Mary had a little lamb
With fleece as white as snow,
And everywhere that Mary went
That lamb was sure to go.

Mary had a little lamb—
She got it Christmas morning;
By night its wool-and-wool remains
The ash can were adorning.

Mary had a little lamb,
As you have heard before;
If Mary had been hungrier
She would have called for more.

Mary read a little Lamb
And yawned: "The dullest feller
Ever!" Then took her card and drew
The latest six-best-seller.

Mary had a little waist,
Where waists were meant to grow
And everywhere the fashions went
Her waist was sure to go.

Mary had a little man,
With liver white as snow,
And everything that Mary said
Was pretty sure to go.

Mother had a little rat,
Her pompadour, you know,
And everywhere that mother went,
The rat was sure to go.

Willie had a little monk,
The monk he took to school;
And Willie's trousers and his act
Were both against the rule.

Cincinnati Pastor Wants to Work for Initiative and Referendum.

Cincinnati, Sept. 29.—Herbert S. Bigelow, for many years pastor of the Vince Street Congregational church, has made formal request to be released from his pastoral duties in order to devote his time to canvassing the state in the interest of the initiative and referendum. Mr. Bigelow in laying his plans before the congregation emphasized the benefit to be derived from immediate action because of certain present favorable conditions with reference to the legislative sessions. Mr. Bigelow was a delegate to the recent Democratic state convention.

Some of their city acquaintances came to visit them one summer and the little daughter of 7 or 8 was showing them about the place.

"What nice chickens!" exclaimed one of the guests when they reached the poultry yard. "They lay every day, too, I suppose?"

"Yes," said the youthful hostess, who really knew nothing about it; "that is, they could, of course; but in our position they don't have to."
